

Groundbreaking Celebration

Artist's rendering of Shelby's new world headquarters.

Jabez cried out to the God of Israel, "Oh, that you would bless me and enlarge my territory! Let your hand be with me, and keep me from harm so that I will be free from pain." And God granted his request.

The day for building your walls will come, the day for extending your boundaries.

He is like a man building a house, who dug down deep and laid the foundation on rock. When a flood came, the torrent struck that house but could not shake it, because it was well built.

Groundbreaking Celebration: July 27, 2007